Denis Bensoussan

Head of Space Risks – Beazley

Mr Bensoussan joined Beazley in March from Hiscox, where, as senior underwriter for space risks, he managed the global satellite risks account.

Prior to joining Hiscox in 2006, Mr Bensoussan worked in the aerospace department of Marsh Aviation and in the aerospace practice for the international law firm Simmons & Simmons as well as related positions at the European Space Agency, the United Nations and the European Commission. With more than 15 years' experience of the aerospace industry, Mr Bensoussan possesses deep knowledge of the risk exposures satellite and launch vehicle operators and manufacturers confront.

Mr Bensoussan obtained a space systems engineering training from Southampton University and Supaero Paris and holds a post-graduate degree in Air & Space Law along with degrees in International Law.
